

Casey Hendricks has a bachelor's degree in English from The University of Mississippi. She graduated from The University of Mississippi School of Law and is a licensed attorney in MS. Prior to working for the Center for Violence Prevention's TOWER Program, she held executive positions at regional and community non-profits. In 2018, Casey joined the staff at CVP and moved to Hattiesburg to serve as a Rapid Response Advocate for the southern portion of the state. She works closely with law enforcement to identify victims of human trafficking and to connect them with meaningful assistance. She is passionate about raising awareness of this horrific crime taking place in our communities and ensuring that victims are empowered as they seek to rebuild their lives.
